INTRODUCTION

The Faculty of Educational Studies of Universiti Putra Malaysia was established on 15th January 1975 with the intention to become a renowned center of excellence in areas of education and human resource development in this region and aspires to be recognized internationally. This faculty carries four major functions which are:

- i. to conduct teacher education programmes,
- ii. to conduct post-graduate programmes in the fields of educational studies and human resource development,
- iii. to provide extension programmes and consultancy services within the university as well as to the community at large, and
- iv. to conduct research in areas related to educational studies and human resource development.

With about 40 years of experience and recognition as top 100 education faculty in the world, the Faculty of Educational Studies, Universiti Putra Malaysia is an established institution that provides outstanding programmes and environment for students to grow and enhance their knowledge in various fields of education and human resource development. The faculty offers graduate programme degrees comprising of the Master of Science degree (M.S.), Master of Education degree (M.Ed.), Master of Human Resource Development (M.HRD) and Doctor of Philosophy degree (Ph.D.) which are up to date, current and futuristic.

In order to ensure excellence in students' learning, 90% of academic staffs are Ph.D. degree holders with vast experience in their own field of teaching and research. They work closely with schools, communities, training institutions and other public and private organizations to address problems and cultivate smart solutions. The faculty promotes a synergistic education atmosphere where the community at large encourages opportunities for graduate students to work with the faculty members in various areas of research. In addition to the creative environment, the faculty is well equipped with infrastructure for students that includes auditorium, resource centre, lecture halls, computer labs, tutorial rooms and study rooms.

The Faculty of Educational Studies is determined to prepare professionals for leadership roles in education, extension work, and human resource development. Thus, we welcome students from a wide array of professional fields; teachers, counsellors, administrators and professionals. The diversity of our students will stimulate and inspire innovative minds towards nurturing future leaders of the 21st century.

MISSION OF THE FACULTY

PROGRAMME EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

MASTERS DEGREE IN EDUCATION

An education programme at the masters level aims to provide graduates with advanced knowledge in specialized areas of education, with clear directions and pathways to acquire, generate, enhance, hone knowledge and skills, whilst making cross-linkages with other knowledge disciplines such as the humanities, the social sciences and the physical sciences. The programme objective at the masters level is specifically to educate and train learners to become graduate scholar-teachers who are able to:

1. make judgments of relevant theories and practices and demonstrate capability of producing new and creative knowledge in order to be effective and inspiring professionals;
2. critically analyse, and synthesize the understanding of their own sources of mature professional knowledge and professional practices to solve significant problems;
3. plan and execute innovative projects, research initiatives and write dissertations, theses and reports for the purpose of building and applying knowledge for the benefit of the profession and society as a whole;
4. demonstrate capabilities in generating and communicating knowledge effectively through the practice of life-long learning and life-long contribution;
5. lead and participate in knowledge generation and in championing intellectual property rights and acknowledgments of original works by others, guarding against plagiarism and other academic improprieties; and
6. acquire general knowledge and develop diverse educational specializations, individual talents and potentialities.

DOCTORAL DEGREE IN EDUCATION

An education programme at the Doctoral level aims to enable graduates to become exemplary educational leaders, policy makers, practitioners, educational researchers and thought leaders. The programme also aims to provide graduates with the ability to undertake scholarly research and be in the forefront of their specialized fields; become credible authorities and experts, as professional educators, who would further facilitate the generation and advancement of knowledge and set the highest standards of professionalism.

Doctoral programmes must contribute to both the development of individual scholars and the development of learning communities, involving schools, post-secondary institutions, workplaces, and community-based organizations. The graduate attributes of doctoral degree holders, include, the mastery of multidisciplinary and multiple intelligences and modes of thinking in educational and non-educational contexts, and, deep and broad understanding of multi-culturalism and diversity. Such graduates would also have the knowledge and intellectual capacity to engage in inter-cultural and inter-disciplinary dialogues, to understand profoundly the various schools of social and educational thought, and, to meaningfully contribute to solve educational problems, nationally and internationally. The programme objective at the Doctoral level is to educate and train learners to become graduates who are scholar-educators able to:

1. grow and become accomplished and experienced educational professionals able to make judgments of relevant theories and practices and be capable of producing new and relevant knowledge through research;

2. synthesize and evaluate professional knowledge and practice and apply such knowledge to solve significant problems;
3. initiate and innovate independent projects and research activities for the purpose of building and applying knowledge for the benefit of the local community, national society and the global community;
4. participate in scholarly discourses and disseminate knowledge through publications and journals and other means of knowledge dissemination in the academic and non-academic world; and
5. develop expertise in teaching, coaching and mentoring and build credibility to become role models in appropriate educational contexts

MASTER'S AND DOCTORAL DEGREE DEGREE IN HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT

The general goal is to develop postgraduates with in-depth knowledge at the frontier of a specialized field through the:

- development of knowledge through research based on the systematic/enquiry process and its outcomes;
- enhancement of communications and leadership skills, and attitudes, ethics, sense of professionalism for societal advancement within the framework of the institutional and national vision;
- use analytical and creative problem-solving skills to evaluate and make decisions based on research evidence and/or experience;

DISSERTATION (ERS5988)

The concept of the dissertation is based on research conducted by master degree students to fulfil the requirement for graduation. The aim of the dissertation is for the students to be able to read and understand the content of research work that are related to their fields of study.

The dissertation needs to be completed within two (2) consecutive semesters. Students can also complete their dissertation in one (1) semester if they have the capability to do that. Students need to enrol in the dissertation at the beginning of Semester Two onwards. Master of Education and Master of Human Resource Development students need to enrol in ERS5988 (Dissertation). A briefing on the implementation of the dissertation will be given by the Programme Coordinator in Semester One of the programme.

After enrolment of this course, the student should appoint a supervisor who will be supervising their dissertation. At the end of Semester One of the dissertation, the student must submit the first three chapters to his/her Supervisor who will then evaluate and award marks for the chapters submitted. At the end of Semester Two of the dissertation, students need to present their dissertation in the Education and Human Resource Development Seminar, Faculty of Educational Studies.

The passing mark for the dissertation is 55% (C+). Students who obtain grades lower than C+ are considered to have failed and will be awarded grade F. Students who do not present their dissertation in Semester Two of dissertation will also be awarded grade F.

As an alternative, students are also allowed to publish one Citation Indexed Journal (example: ERA, Web of Science (WOS), SCOPUS, MyCite and ERIC Database) article based on the research conducted as part of the requirement for graduation. In the event that the paper has not been published, students may provide proof of paper acceptance notification from the journal editor/publisher. The journal manuscript must only be submitted to the selected journal for review after making amendments based on the examiner's comments given at the Education and Human Resource Development Seminar, Faculty of Educational Studies.

COMPREHENSIVE EXAMINATION - PROPOSAL DEFENCE FOR Ph.D

A student pursuing a Doctor of Philosophy degree is required to take the Comprehensive Examination (CE)-Proposal Defence which aims to evaluate the student's knowledge in the area of study, the student's ability to integrate knowledge of research and/theories pertaining to issues that are fundamental to the field of study, and the student's understanding of relevant research design and methodology. For this purpose the following regulations apply:

- a. A student will be permitted to sit for the CE-PD only after completion of all coursework required for the programme, and within four (4) semesters or two (2) years of cumulative enrolment, failing which the Ph.D. candidature will be terminated.
- b. The CE-PD shall consist of both written and oral examinations, and the student is required to pass both examinations with an equivalent of 'B' grade (65).
- c. The student is not permitted to take the oral examination until he/she has passed the written examination. The oral examination should be conducted not later than 30 days after the written examination.
- d. The examinations are to be conducted by the Supervisory Committee, or a special committee appointed by the Faculty.
- e. If a student is unable to take the CE-PD within the stipulated time, due to medical reasons or other emergencies, he/she is required to apply for an extension with relevant supporting documents for approval by the Dean.
- f. A student is given two opportunities to pass the examination. The second examination must be taken within 60 days after the first examination. Failure at the second attempt will result in the termination of the student's Ph.D. candidacy unless it is recommended for reversal of study from a Ph.D. to a Masters degree programme [Rule 26(i)].
- g. A student needs to fill in the Proposal Defence form which can be downloaded from the Faculty of Educational Studies website, https://educ.upm.edu.my/akademik/pascasiswazah/penyerahan_borang-60668
