INTRODUCTION

The Faculty of Educational Studies of Universiti Putra Malaysia was established on 15th January 1975 with the intention to become renowned center of excellence in areas of education and human resource development in this region and aspires to be recognized internationally. This faculty carries four major functions which are:

- i. To conduct teacher education programmes,
- ii. To conduct post-graduate programmes in the fields of educational studies and human resource development,
- iii. To provide extension programmes and consultancy services within the university as well as to the community at large, and
- iv. To conduct research in areas related to educational studies and human resource development.

With about 40 years of experience and recognition as top 51-100 education faculty in the world, the Faculty of Educational Studies of Universiti Putra Malaysia is an established institution that provides outstanding programmes and environment for students to grow and enhance their knowledge in various fields of education and human resource development. The faculty offers graduate programme degrees comprising of the Master of Science degree (M.S.), Master of Education degree (M.Ed.), Master of Human Resource Development (M.HRD) and Doctor of Philosophy degree (Ph.D.) which are up to date and in accordance with the current scenario locally and internationally.

In order to ensure excellence in students' learning, 90% of academic staffs are Ph.D. degree holders with vast experience in their own field of teaching and research. They work closely with schools, communities, training institutions and other public and private organizations to address problems and cultivate smart solutions. The faculty promotes a synergistic education atmosphere where the community at large encourages opportunities for graduate students to work with the faculty members in various areas of research. In addition to the creative environment, the faculty is well equipped with infrastructure for students that includes auditorium, resource centre, lecture halls, computer labs, tutorial rooms and study rooms.

The Faculty of Educational Studies is determined to prepare professionals for leadership roles in education, extension work, and human resource development. Thus, we welcome students from a wide array of professional fields; teachers, counsellors, administrators and professionals. The diversity of our students will stimulate and inspire innovative minds towards cultivating future leaders of the 21st century.

MISSION OF THE FACULTY

The Faculty envisions itself as a centre for excellence in teaching, learning, research, and consultancy services contributing to positive growth in education and professional development.

VISION OF THE FACULTY

The objectives of graduate education at the Faculty of Educational Studies are:

- i. To prepare qualified professionals for leadership roles in the development and implementation of academic programmes in all areas of formal and informal education,
- ii. To improve the condition of learning and teaching by conducting comprehensive and rigorous research that addresses issues and problems facing education, and
- iii. To provide opportunities for continuous professional development for all educators and human resource development personnel.

PROGRAMME EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

MASTER'S DEGREE IN EDUCATION

An education programme at the masters level aims to provide graduates with advanced knowledge in specialized areas of education, with clear directions and pathways to acquire, generate, enhance, hone knowledge and skills, whilst making cross-linkages with other knowledge disciplines such as the humanities, the social sciences and the physical sciences.

The programme objective at the masters level is specifically to educate and train learners to become graduate scholar-teachers who are able to:

1. make judgments of relevant theories and practices and demonstrate capability of producing new and creative knowledge in order to be effective and inspiring professionals;
2. critically analyse, and synthesize the understanding of their own sources of mature professional knowledge and professional practices to solve significant problems;
3. plan and execute innovative projects, research initiatives and write dissertations, theses and reports for the purpose of building and applying knowledge for the benefit of the profession and society as a whole;
4. demonstrate capabilities in generating and communicating knowledge effectively through the practice of life-long learning and life-long contribution;
5. lead and participate in knowledge generation and in championing intellectual property rights and acknowledgments of original works by others, guarding against plagiarism and other academic improprieties; and
6. acquire general knowledge and develop diverse educational specializations, individual talents and potentialities.

DOCTORAL DEGREE IN EDUCATION

An education programme at the Doctoral level aims to enable graduates to become exemplary educational leaders, policy makers, practitioners, educational researchers and thought leaders. The programme also aims to provide graduates with the ability to undertake scholarly research and be in the forefront of their specialized fields; become credible authorities and experts, as professional educators, who would further facilitate the generation and advancement of knowledge and set the highest standards of professionalism. Doctoral programmes must contribute to both the development of individual scholars and the development of learning communities, involving schools, post-secondary institutions, workplaces, and community-based organizations. The graduate attributes of doctoral degree holders, include, the mastery of multidisciplinary and multiple intelligences and modes of thinking in educational and non-educational contexts, and, deep and broad understanding of multi-culturalism and diversity. Such graduates would also have the knowledge and intellectual capacity to engage in inter-cultural and inter-disciplinary dialogues, to understand profoundly the various schools of social and educational thought, and, to meaningfully contribute to solve educational problems, nationally and internationally.

The programme objective at the doctoral level is to educate and train learners to become graduates who are scholar-educators able to:

1. grow and become accomplished and experienced educational professionals able to make judgments of relevant theories and practices and be capable of producing new and relevant knowledge through research;

2. synthesize and evaluate professional knowledge and practice and apply such knowledge to solve significant problems;
3. initiate and innovate independent projects and research activities for the purpose of building and applying knowledge for the benefit of the local community, national society and the global community;
4. participate in scholarly discourses and disseminate knowledge through publications and journals and other means of knowledge dissemination in the academic and non-academic world; and
5. develop expertise in teaching, coaching and mentoring and build credibility to become role models in appropriate educational contexts.

MASTER'S AND DOCTORAL DEGREE IN HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT

The general goal is to develop broadly-trained graduates through the:

1. development of knowledge, research and communication skills and competency based on the scientific / enquiry process and its outcomes;
2. enhancement of generic skills such as attitudes, ethics, sense of professionalism and leadership skills for societal advancement within the framework of the national vision;
3. utilisation of analytical and problem solving skills in order to evaluate and make decisions critically and creatively based on research evidence and / or experience;
4. enhancement of the quest for knowledge and lifelong learning skills in line with the advancement of global development;

COMPREHENSIVE EXAMINATION (C.E.)

Students pursuing a Doctor of Philosophy degree is required to take the Comprehensive Examination (C.E.) which aims to evaluate the student's knowledge in the area of study, the student's ability to integrate knowledge of research and/theories pertaining to issues that are fundamental to the field of study, and the student's understanding of relevant research design and methodology. For this purpose the following regulations apply:

- a. A student will be permitted to sit for the C.E. only after completion of all coursework required for the programme, and within five (5) semesters or two and a half (2 ½) years of cumulative enrolment, failing which his Ph.D. candidature will be terminated.
- b. A Student who converts his Bachelor degree into a Doctor of Philosophy degree is required to pass the C.E. within three (3) semesters, or one and a half (1 ½) years of cumulative enrolment after the conversion date.
- c. The C.E. shall consist of both written and oral examinations, and the student is required to pass both examinations with an equivalent of 'B' grade.
- d. The student is not permitted to take the oral examination until he/she has passed the written examination. The oral examination should be conducted not later than 30 days after the written examination.
- e. The examinations are be conducted by his Supervisory Committee, or a special committee appointed by the Faculty.
- f. If a student is unable to take the C.E. within the stipulated time, due to medical reasons or other emergencies, he/she is required to apply for an extension with relevant supporting documents for approval by the Dean.
- g. A student is given two opportunities to pass the examination. The second examination must be taken within 60 days after the first examination. Failure at the second attempt will result in the termination of the student's Ph.D. candidacy unless he is recommended for reversal of study from a Ph.D. to a Masters degree programme [Rule 26(i)]

PROJECT PAPER (EDU5988/DCE5988)

The concept of the project paper is based on research conducted by master degree students after they have made their decision so as to fulfil the requirement of the faculty for graduation. The aim of the project paper is for the students who are 'customers of research' to be able to read and understand the contents of research works that are related to their fields of study.

The project paper needs to be completed within two (2) consecutive semesters. Students need to enrol in the project paper at the beginning of Semester Two onwards. Master of Education students need to enrol in EDU5988 (Project Paper) whilst Master of Human Resource Development students need to enrol in DCE5988 (Project Paper). A briefing on the implementation of the project paper will be given during Semester One of their study.

After enrolment for any of these courses, the student should appoint a supervisor who will be supervising their project paper. At the end of Semester One of the project paper, the student must submit the first three chapters to his/her Supervisor who will then evaluate and award marks for the chapters submitted. Students who obtain a score of 5.5 and below at the first stage of their supervision will cease from continuing the Project Paper and will need to enrol for 2 elective courses (6 credits).

At the end of Semester Two of the project paper, students need to present their projects in the Presentation of Postgraduate Project Paper, Faculty of Educational Studies.

The passing mark for the Project Paper is 55% (C+). Students who obtain grades lower than C+ are considered to have failed and will be awarded grade F.

In addition, students are encouraged to produce a minimum of one article in regards to the research conducted for their project paper.
